CRISIS LOOMS WITH CLASH OF RUMANIAN AND SOVIET TROOPS

Rumanian and Hungarian Foreign Ministers Summoned to Conference at Vienna With Those Of Germany and Italy—Move to Force Settlement of Hungary's Claims

BUDAPEST, Aug. 27 (P).—Rumania and Hungary have been summoned to a conference with the Rome-Berlin axis at Vienna in an apparent move to obtain a quick settlement of the mounting Balkan crisis, lest Russia seize the opportunity for further penetration into that area, it was learned tonight.

The Hungarian and Rumanian Foreign Ministers have been called to Vienna, where they will meet the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, and the German Foreign Minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop.

REPORTS OF CLASH

Just before this became known, the German and Italian Ministers to Rumania left Bucharest by plane for consultations with their Governments, carrying detailed reports of a sharp clash between Soviet and Rumanian troops, just north of Dorohol, in Northern Moldavia.

At about the same time, the German and Italian Ministers to Budapest also left here.

The Vienna meeting was understood to be designated to force a settlement of Hungary's claims upon Rumania for Transylvania which would avoid a conflict disturbing the Balkan productivity, so necessary to Hitler and Mussolini in their war with Britain.

Accounts of the Soviet-Rumanian clash first reached Budapest in diplomatic dispatches from Rumania and subsequently were confirmed by Soviet circles in Bucharest.

BRITAIN TO AID FRENCH EMPIRE

Economic and Other Help Promised to Colonies Loyal to Allies

LONDON, Aug. 27 (P).—Assurances that Britain will give economic and other aid to parts of the French Empire "now cut off from captive France" which show loyalty to Britain's cause were given today by Prime Minister Churchill to General Charles de Gaulle, leader of "free Frenchmen."

The assurances went so far as to state that sections of the French Empire supporting the war against Germany would be accorded "economic assistance on a scale similar to that which we would apply in comparable circumstances to colonies of the British Empire."

TO FIGHT WITH BRITAIN
General de Gaulle disclosed the contents of the letter when he announced the Governor and Commander of Chad Territory in French Equatorial Africa had decided to fight with Britain.

French circles in London regarded the decision of Chad to line up with General de Gaulle and Britain as of great importance since that territory borders Italian Libya and the Sudan and is the key to Equatorial Africa.

(The territory is 461,202 square miles in extent with a population of 548 Europeans and 1,432,000 natives, according to The Statesman's Year Book.)

He had been ill for more than a year. Shaw collaborated with Professor Philip Drinker, of Harvard, in the development of the respirator now used throughout the world in the treatment of some types of infantile paralysis and in some cases of respiratory failure.

Paris Has Opera But Old Spirit of Gaiety Is Gone

PARIS, Aug. 24 (Delayed).—(AP, via Berlin).—With an audience which included many German army men and their families, the Paris Opera tonight gave its first performance since the occupation—Hector Berlioz' "Damnation of Faust." The famous old opera house was sold out for the performance, but there was no attempt to recreate the old atmosphere of gaiety.

Experiment Is Fatal to Young Girl

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 27 (P).—Ann Catherine Duggan, twenty-one, of Worcester, died today of a "anaphylactic shock" after participating in a medical experiment. Associate Medical Examiner Ernest Hunt said. He added that a previous heart ailment was "a contributory cause."

Took Short Cut After Falling Out

SANTA MARIA, Cal., Aug. 27 (P).—Mrs. Corvillia Donovan looked into the back seat after a long silence. Her car door was open and her eight-year-old son, Richard, was missing. She organized a search. After several hours, she drove home. Richard was there. He had hopped a short cut, hiking five miles over steep mountain trails with a broken arm and fractured skull. He is recovering.

GERMANS SEND FEWER PLANES OVER BRITAIN AND DAMAGE IS LIGHT

London Has Two Night Alarms, But Main Defences Not Penetrated—Attacks Termed Nuisance Raids—Other Cities Are Bombed

LONDON, Aug. 28 (P).—Hitler's night raiders twice sent sleepy Londoners to their shelters late last night and early today, dropped a few incendiary bomb clusters, but failed to penetrate the main defences of the Empire capital.

The raiders ranged also over wide areas in other parts of England and Wales at the end of a day of "very light" air activity in which three Nazi planes were downed. No Royal Air Force losses were reported.

As far as Central London was concerned it was just another series of "nuisance" or "insomnia" raids, disturbing the slumber of millions, but achieving little else.

FORESEE DRIVE AGAINST EGYPT

British Observers Expect Early Attack From Harassed Italian Forces

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 27 (P).—A report in Italian military circles in North Africa and Fascist press re-creation against Egypt led British observers to the conclusion that Mussolini soon will attempt to send his troops across the desert against this non-belligerent ally of Great Britain.

These informants expressed conviction that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian commander in Africa, would be forced to launch his drive shortly, because he could not go on indefinitely withstanding the pummeling of British sea and air bombardments.

The Royal Navy belatedly announced today its forces "successfully" bombed Bardia and Bomba in Italian Libya, carrying out the Bardia attack "at point blank range."

A naval communiqué issued early on Tuesday said: "During the night of August 23-24 our naval forces attacked the Italian harbor at Bardia, where there were troop concentrations, and the seaplane base at Bomba (also on the Libyan coast)."

"Both places were successfully bombed and at Bardia our forces penetrated into the harbor and engaged targets at point blank range. Our ships suffered no casualties."

DUKE OF BEDFORD DIES IN ENGLAND

Served in Egyptian Campaign and in First Great War—Was Noted Collector

LONDON, Aug. 27 (P).—The eleventh Duke of Bedford, eighty-two, one of England's four richest dukes, died today at his vast Woburn Abbey estate, where he lived alone amidst his fabulous collection of animals, birds and art treasures.

Succeeding him to the title is the Marquess of Tavistock, fifty-one, a year-old Social Credit expert, ornithologist and chairman of the British Council for Christian Settlement in Europe.

The Duke served in the Egyptian campaign of 1882 and in the first Great War. He was aide-de-camp to King Edward VII and King George V.

The Duchess of Bedford, a noted long distance flyer, disappeared in her plane off the British coast in 1937, and was given up for lost.

TELLING BLOWS DELIVERED BY BRITISH IN GERMANY AND ITALY

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southern Co.)

LONDON, Aug. 27 (By Cable).—The recent German night bombing attacks are part of a ruthlessly concerted plan, says The Times today. The men engaged in them are believed to have been training intensively in Eastern Germany for this specialized work ever since the fall of France.

R.A.F. observers report that for some time German airmen all along the Continental coast have been systematically pushed forward while this exposes them to increased punishment, it is a necessary preparation for an assault.

There is no doubt the enemy is determined to break down the resistance of the R.A.F. by an even more furious onslaught, not only with increased fleets of night bombers but probably also with simultaneous daylight attacks on several widely-separated targets at once so as to obtain the maximum effect from his superior numbers.

What his ultimate objective may be is still a matter of conjecture, but late as the season now is the development of air attacks is quite consistent with an invasion attempt. Such a landing, however, could have no hope of success unless it was able to exploit a victory over both the R.A.F. and the Navy, which the enemy is still far from winning.

Meanwhile, the R.A.F. offensive against Germany goes on. Airmen, factories, oil depots and communications are every night being going up in flames under the rain of explosives delivered with accuracy the Germans cannot match. This R.A.F. bomber superiority in precision is at least equivalent in value to the superiority in aerial combat shown by our fighters.

The Times Stockholm correspondent reports that German authorities in Oslo have presented the Norwegians with a bill for two hundred million Norwegian kroner as part of the expenses for German occupation.

The Germans evidently hope to make a long, if not permanent stay in the country. They are expending great efforts on road work, concentrating on improving trunk roads to facilitate their use for military purposes. The Norwegians had planned to build numerous roads for local convenience, but the Germans have compelled them to stop work on these.

REFUGEE SHIP IS NEAR PORT

American Legion Being Conveyed to New York by Two Destroyers

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (P).—MacKay Radio tonight intercepted a short wave broadcast from Elre reporting that the Finnish freighter Elre had been torpedoed off Malinhead, the northernmost point on the Irish coast.

The message, received here at 4:35 p.m. P.S.T., said the vessel was without lifeboats and that her receiving set had been put out of order. The exact position of the Elre was not given. MacKay Radio said.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping lists the Elre as a vessel of 3,868 tons built in 1913.

PRO-AXIS ADVOCATE TO ADVISE JAPAN'S FOREIGN OFFICE
TOKYO, Aug. 28 (P).—Toshio Shiratori, former ambassador to Italy and a strong pro-Axis advocate who in January, 1939, was reported to have urged military alliance with Germany and Italy, was appointed an adviser to the Japanese Foreign Office today. Yoshiaki Saito, international law expert, was given a similar post.

FRANCE MAKES CHANGES IN DIPLOMATIC SERVICE
VICHY, France, Aug. 27 (P).—Changes in the French diplomatic service were announced today as a result of Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin's "rejuvenation" process, through which fifteen of twenty diplomats holding ministerial rank have been retired. Jean de Caslellan, son of the Duchess of Talleyrand, the former Anna Gold, and recently secretary of the London Embassy, was among those promoted to the rank of minister. He will be assigned a new post immediately.

Score of Key Military and Industrial Centres Are Heavily Bombed as R.A.F. Extends Offensive Against Enemy—Explosives Showered On Huge Oil Factory Near Leipzig

Six Tons of Bombs Dropped on Big Plants in Northern Italy

LONDON, Aug. 28 (P).—Royal Air Force bombers apparently were in the skies over enemy territory early today carrying on the "greatly extended" air offensive announced by the Air Ministry against the military and industrial strength of the Rome-Berlin axis. (Air raid sirens sounded in Geneva, Switzerland, last night, usually an indication British raiders are bound for Italy.)

SUPPORT HAS GREAT VALUE

General Charles de Gaulle Has High Praise for Canada's Effort

LONDON, Aug. 27 (P).—General Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Free French forces over whose head hangs a "Nazi-inspired" death sentence, is confident Canadian support, and particularly that of French-Canadians, will render France a great service in the struggle for victory over Germany.

"Canada is making a tremendous military effort herself," the tall, fifty-year-old soldier said in French during an interview in his headquarters just off the Mall. "She sets also as a link between America and the Old World, and her sentiments and opinions have a great influence upon the French."

A GREAT SERVICE
He said that if Canada—notably French Canada—should decide to favor by all the means in her power the development and action of the Free French forces France would be rendered a great service.

"It would be a greater service than mourning for France," said the general who described himself as "simply a soldier fighting for France." The Republic needed no tears, but aid for the fight.

General de Gaulle an officer since the age of twenty-one when he graduated from the Military Academy at Saint Cyr, said that possibly some French-Canadians did not share his sentiments regarding

JOHNSON LEADING IN TWO CONTESTS

Veteran Isolationist Senator Well Ahead in Early Returns From California

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27 (P).—Senator Hiram W. Johnson, veteran isolationist, took a long lead over a string of candidates on the Democratic and Progressive as well as on his own Republican ticket tonight in returns from the state primary election.

Although he was running what was conceded to be one of the most difficult races in his long political career, in 2,804 out of the 13,340 precincts, he received 79,592 on the Republican ballot, while Lieutenant-Governor Ellis Patterson was getting 73,101. Assemblyman Samuel Yorty 4,256, and John Anson Ford, Los Angeles, 9,545.

On the Democratic side of the contest, Johnson in 3,359 precincts collected 85,548; Ford, 35,283; Patterson, 30,674; and Yorty, 11,992. Two other Democrats trailed far behind.

Sees Much of Value In Child Movement To Canadian Homes

Representative of United Kingdom on Dominion Advisory Board Tells of Benefits to Britain And Canada—Explains General Scheme

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (AP).—The bringing of children from the United Kingdom to Canada has practical strategic significance, R. Keith Jopson, representative of the Children's Overseas Reception Board of the United Kingdom, told Canada over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation tonight. He was introduced by Resources Minister T. A. Crerar.

Mr. Jopson, liaison officer for the United Kingdom with the Canadian Advisory Committee for Overseas Children, said children being sent to Canada were a fair cross section of the British juvenile population. He hoped the evacuation of the children might be the beginning of a better distribution of the population of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

HELPING BRITAIN

"The more non-combatants that are removed from the war zone, the more freedom there will be for the movement of troops; the less mouths there will be to feed within our fortresses; the more currency and ships will be available for the purchase and transport of munitions of war; and the less strain there will be on island transport and air raid precautions services," he said.

"It is no small thing for parents in the Old Country to send their children abroad perhaps for a lengthy period, perhaps forever, to be cared for by foster parents whom they do not know and have never seen. But the parents will be fortified in the certain knowledge that Canada will assume the role of foster parent with a full sense of the grave responsibility of this trust; that she will give to these children every bit as much care and loving devotion as she would to her own sons and daughters."

Mr. Jopson said the movement of the children might be one of the blessings arising from the horrors of the war.

STRENGTHEN TIES

The children, at an impressionable age, would form associations and friendships which would strengthen the ties of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Their outlook would be broadened and those that returned would be imbued with wider horizons. Those who remained would contribute to the prosperity and greatness of the Dominion.

The German propagandists had gloated over the scheme heralding it as defeatism. Nothing could be further from the truth. Was it defeatism, he asked, to remove non-combatants from the line of battle? Events in France had proved the wisdom of such a course.

"The mathematical chances of being killed by a bomb are small. That is not the reason we are sending our children to Canada. It is because we want to protect them from the nervous and physical strain of taking them from their beds, night after night, and sometimes several times a night, and putting them into an air raid shelter in the backyard. And there is another potent reason. It is because parents feel that once we have put our children into safety, we can roll up our sleeves and make a better job of dealing with the Nazis."

CRISIS LOOMING FOLLOWING CLASH

est. These dispatches indicated the fight, in which several hundred troops were killed, had begun after Rumania overstepped the Rumanian frontier at a point where Rumanian troops had been removed for service in Transylvania.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

The staff of the Soviet Legation in Bucharest said a bloody clash between Soviet and Rumanian troops occurred Sunday and Monday with heavy casualties on both sides.

The calling of the Vienna conference was the latest in a chain of events which began on Saturday with the breakdown of a Hungarian-Rumanian conference on the Transylvanian dispute.

Rumania immediately countered Hungarian strategic measures by moving thousands of troops from Moldavia to Transylvania.

No sooner had King Carol's Government taken this action than the Red Army units penetrated Rumanian soil.

The opinion was expressed in quarters close to the Governments in Budapest and Bucharest that Soviet troops crossed the Rumanian frontier in a major "scouting expedition" to prepare the Red Army for the possibility of a real push in the event that Hungarian-Rumanian differences over Transylvania develop into open warfare.

Thus, some foreign military observers conjectured that perhaps the Soviet's ultimate plan was to profit directly from the current Rumanian-Hungarian crisis over Transylvania.

In a second incident further threatening the uneasy peace of Southeastern Europe, the Hungarian Foreign Office accused a Rumanian bomber of shooting down a Hungarian bomber on Hungarian soil today, and protested angrily to Bucharest against what was termed this "unprovoked and murderous attack."

After Hungarian officials had been in communication with Berlin, however, the Foreign Office spokesman said:

"The attack was provocative, but we ourselves will not provoke."

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 27 (AP).—A Rumanian Government spokesman said tonight a Hungarian plane had dropped propaganda leaflets in Transylvania on Sunday and that this probably was the craft which the Hungarian Foreign Office asserted had been shot down.

The Hungarian protest, he said, was "being handled through the regular diplomatic channels."

GERMANY WORRIED

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP).—Reliable informants reported today that German and Italian Foreign Ministers would refer the Rumanian-Hungarian quarrel in a Vienna conference tomorrow, in the conviction that Germany must settle Balkan territorial disputes to avoid at all costs any incidents likely to disturb the conduct of her war with Britain.

There were no reports from German sources of a clash between Rumanian and Russian forces, but it was acknowledged such a clash would make the Balkan settlement urgent from Germany's point of view.

Germans emphasized preservation of peace in the Balkans was of the greatest importance to them. To that end, the status of Rumania—with which Germany has important trade agreements for acquisition of war essentials—must be clarified not only regarding Hungary, but also Russia, they said.

ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR BIG MARKET

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (AP).—Plans for construction of a $300,000 terminal market beside the Canadian National Railway station here were announced today by B. H. Ford, vice-chairman of the British Columbia Coast Vegetable Marketing Board.

Mr. Ford said that the plans had been approved by the board and C.N.R. officials at a meeting today, and that the project "would surpass anything like it on the Pacific Coast."

MILK APPEAL IS EXPECTED

B.C. Marketing Schemes Not Directly Affected by Latest Judgment

Judgment by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, in the Supreme Court, holding equalization orders of the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board ultra vires, as outside the authority of the Natural Products Marketing Act, will not affect other marketing schemes in British Columbia, it was said yesterday by J. E. Lane, chairman of the Provincial Marketing Board.

"The decision did not involve the act, nor the milk scheme by way of regulation under the statute, except in so far as the orders of the milk board were concerned. The judgment does not affect marketing schemes, as such," Mr. Lane said.

CONSIDER APPEAL

The Provincial Marketing Board supported an appeal on the covering statute to the Privy Council, but is not concerned in the present legislation. While an appeal in the present issue is unofficially anticipated, decision as to whether or not the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board will base the appeal on the McDonald ruling has not yet been transmitted to the Provincial marketing body.

The main point at issue in the case was the right, or otherwise, of the milk control body to purchase milk outright, and equalize returns to individual producers after resale of the product.

DESCRIPTIVE ATTACK

The log of one pilot, who made three attacks on the Martell works, states: "Weather hazy. No clouds. Visibility showed up target to advantage. First stick of bombs started four fires and two large explosions. Second stick caused bright blue and white explosions. Third stick caused fourteen fires in a line."

Another pilot arrived ten minutes later. He had had an exciting journey, for his oxygen supply diminished when he over the Alps and he was able to obtain very little while flying three miles up. He carried on, however, and got over safely.

Fires already were burning at Sesto San Giovanni and a great cloud of white smoke which was drifting upwards to nearly 6,000 feet guided him to the target. The moon was covered by a layer of high clouds and there was haze partly shrouding the factory, but he made his attack and his bombs caused new fires on the west side of the works.

GERMAN AGENCY RAGES

BERLIN, Aug. 27 (AP).—The German news agency, D.N.B., raged today at the Royal Air Force, accusing it in yesterday's raids over Berlin of having dropped incendiary bombs on non-military targets in the outskirts of the capital and threatening reprisals on London.

The agency, with the customary bombast drilled into its staff by chief Goebbels, declared, apparently for home consumption: "London knows very well that the German air force has confined itself to military objectives in the vicinity of the English capital."

"These military objectives so far have included a theatre, empty fortifications, St. Giles' Cripplegate Church and a non-military warehouse near St. Paul's Cathedral in a district where the streets are so narrow and tortuous they could not be used for military purposes and where there are no war industries."

It said the man identified himself as John Patrick Curtin, a former hotel employee, and said he wanted to see the Duchess of Kent.

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP).—The King today presented the first field marshal's baton of the war to Field Marshal Sir Edmund Ironside.

The agency added: "All these criminal assaults are manifestations of the well-known British theme that the war is not to be waged against the armed forces of the enemy but against the enemy people itself—against aged women and children."

In contradiction to this attitude of which they now apparently disapprove after declaring "total" war on Britain, the German air force yesterday bombed the market place at Folkestone on the Channel, killing at least fifty persons. Today they bombed a poor house farther along the coast, killing several aged persons. Folkestone in peacetime at least, was not a military town, but a fishing port and port of clearance for Boulogne and Dunkirk.

"People machine-gunned in Midland towns today, or relatives of the three women blown to pieces by a bomb as they walked along a Midland country road a few nights ago, probably will be 'unimpressed by D.N.B.'s outburst."

Old Soldiers Needed For Instruction Duty In Training Centres

District Headquarters Calls for 235 British Columbia Veterans for Militia at C.A.S.F. Rates Of Pay—Ample Material Available

CANADA'S expanding army programme daily brings more and more opportunities for service by the men who fought for their country nearly a quarter of a century ago, and many "old soldiers" in Victoria and other parts of British Columbia are being called upon this week to don uniform once again.

There are places for them in the non-permanent militia units, but at Canadian Active Service Force rates of pay and allowances, and on full-time service.

Military authorities have recognized that it takes old soldiers to make new soldiers, and so the men who fought in 1914-18 are being asked to re-enlist today, to link into the thousands of young men now under N.P.A.M. training, and the thousands more who will be drafted under the national training scheme. There are, too, a great many other jobs awaiting the veterans—jobs that only old and experienced soldiers can do well.

NATIONAL TRAINING

Yesterday Lieut.-Col. H. E. Goodman, headquarters recruiting officer in Military District No. 11 for the C.A.S.F., announced that 235 men are needed for duty in the training centres of the province for the duration of the national training programme. They will be recruited as militiamen and called out for full-time duty, but in all other respects they will be on the same footing as men of the C.A.S.F.

Service under this new plan is limited to old soldiers of good health and under fifty years of age, but is open to men of categories "B" and "C." Category "A" men over forty-five—top age limit for service overseas or on home defence—and under fifty also will be taken.

Recruits will be attested at the District Depot in Victoria or in the old Hotel Vancouver, central recruiting depot for the Mainland city, and must report for duty by September 4. They will be detailed to the training centres here and at Nanaimo and Vernon.

Here is a list of the men needed: Eighty ex-soldiers for junior non-commissioned ranks, seven men for provost guard, fourteen mechanical transport drivers, two postmen, ten clerks, seven men for sanitary fashions, twenty-seven mess orderlies, twenty-seven barmen, thirty cooks, fourteen storemen, eleven waiters and orderlies, two medical orderlies and four buglers.

"EASY TO FIND"

C. A. Gill, Canadian Legion district secretary, believes the requirements can be filled "in no time."

Welcoming Colonel Goodman's announcement yesterday as an opportunity for ex-servicemen who are "breaking their necks to get back into the army," he said that months ago, before the death of Hon. Norman Rogers, the Canadian Legion had urged the Defence Department to use the services of old soldiers for instruction and training purposes, and thereby release younger men for service elsewhere.

Many of the men of 1914-18 are now in the Home Guard, doing important and valuable work as part of the C.A.S.F., but there are hundreds of "old soldiers" who tried to join the Home Guard only to find its ranks full, and who will be glad of the opportunity to serve in this new capacity, Mr. Gill said.

In the past few months, the Legion's Veterans' Training Corps have been brushing up their skills against the day when their country might need them again, and Mr. Gill is confident that the Legion will be able to rustle up Victoria's full quota for the N.P.A.M. without the slightest difficulty.

"They'll be swarming down to the Armoury as soon as they've read their morning paper," he said.

Non-Registrants Pay the Penalty

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (C.P.)—Penalties for failing to register were imposed on two men and a woman in police court here today.

Arthur Hollingsworth, who said he had not registered because he could not get British justice in Canada, was fined $100 and costs with the option of spending three months in jail. Mary Sovich told the court, through an interpreter, that her religion prohibited her from registering, and was fined $50 and costs with the alternative of two months in jail.

Paul Solohub said he did not know whether he wanted a chance to register or not, and was fined $50 and costs.

Civilian Prisoners of War Kept Busy

PRISONERS in a Canadian internment camp for civilians are usually busy working on the land with other manual work, which helps to keep them fit. In the top picture some of the prisoners are working in one of the large cabbage patches connected with the prison. The Germans consume large quantities of cabbage in the form of sauerkraut. The bottom picture shows some of the browned and husky prisoners returning to camp from a day's work in the fields.

WILL CHECK-UP REGISTRATIONS

Campaign to Be Started to Trace Persons Who Failed to Register

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (C.P.)—Federal, provincial and municipal police will immediately begin "an intensive campaign" to trace persons who have failed to register, according to an announcement by the Department of National War Services.

The department announced that a letter had gone forward to the Attorney-General of each province requesting the Provincial and municipal police to conduct such a campaign.

"They are being particularly asked," the announcement said, "to have traffic officers require the production of registration certificates."

The R.C.M.P. are conducting a similar campaign.

LIABLE TO FINE

The law provides that persons who, without legal excuse, have not registered, are liable to a fine of not more than $200 or imprisonment for three months or both, and an additional penalty of $10 a day for every day following the date on which they should have registered.

Persons who did not register through misunderstanding of registration regulations should go to the nearest postoffice and do so at once. Hon. T. C. Davis, deputy minister for war services, said later.

As an example of what he meant, he said he had received a letter from a man of seventy-four who had erroneously been informed that those over sixty-five did not have to register.

"I advised him to go to the post-office and do so. We are not after people like that."

NO OFFICIAL WORD

While no official word has been received yet by Provincial, city and municipal police forces, regarding the manner of checking up on those who failed to register, nevertheless routine steps are being taken by police here to carry out the law, it was learned yesterday.

Chief J. A. McNeil said that any persons who are found to be not registered will be prosecuted forthwith. At the Attorney-General's Department, Colonel Eric Pepler, deputy attorney-general, anticipated that official instructions would be relayed shortly covering the matter.

WILL IMPROVE WATER SYSTEM

Saanich Council to Spend $13,000 for New Mains in District

At a meeting last night, the Saanich Council voted to expend approximately $13,000 for the installation of new six-inch water mains. The mains will run for some 4,000 feet along Arbutus Avenue, from Finerty Road to Sherwood Drive, and another section of roughly 3,000 feet in length will continue from the end of the present pipeline on Tudor Avenue.

At the suggestion of H. H. Allen, engineer, the pipe will be ordered in the immediate future to avoid any possibility of further price increases.

The council further decided to investigate what means might be utilized to raise the water pressure in the mains in some districts.

Robert Squire, waterworks collector, was granted one month's sick leave by the council.

RELIEF OFFICER

Chief relief officer for Saanich, G. C. Watkins, having made arrangements for enlistment in the armed forces in the immediate future, the council last night appointed A. D. Corker, former assistant relief officer, to the full-time post in Mr. Watkins' absence.

The council stipulated that the appointment was purely temporary, regarding the former relief officer's enlistment as a leave of absence, his position being guaranteed on his return. C. P. Ennals was made assistant.

CLERK'S REPORT

A report from W. A. Greene, Saanich clerk, stated that 132 applications had been completed for the refund of taxes up to date under the National Housing Act, making a refund to new home owners amounting to $3,011.66.

Further business of the meeting relating to military matters was held in camera, and the council also discussed the disposal of certain land properties to private individuals.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel, and will be followed by cremation.

PROMISES MEN LOTS OF WORK

Camp O.C. Says Training Designed to Make Militia Troops Huntsmen

Standing on one of the butts on the rain-soaked parade ground at Healy's Range, Lieut.-Col. K. A. McLennan, camp commandant, told men of the Canadian Scottish and Irish Fusilier regiments yesterday that "your training here is to make sure that if the enemy comes you will be the huntsmen, not the hunted."

"We've got a lot to do," declared the C.O. of the Fusiliers, in addressing the first full battalion parade since the N.P.A.M. units went under canvas on Sunday. "and only a short time to do it. It is always a difficult task turning a civilian into a soldier, so all I can promise you is plenty of work."

The camp commandant referred to the rain that had greeted the Victoria and Vancouver militiamen each day since they went into camp. "In one way I'm rather glad we've had this poor weather, because it shows you what the regular army has to face. It might be much worse on active service," he said.

ENCOURAGE INITIATIVE

Clad in groundsheet capes, helmets keeping the drizzle from their faces, the militiamen listened closely as Colonel McLennan pointed out that as much large formation training as possible would be eliminated, and promised them at least one route march and one night march. Training would be mainly in sections and platoons, to encourage the development of individual leadership.

"Your units must be developed so that if anything happens to one man, another can step forward and take charge without any delay," he continued. "I appreciate the way all ranks have co-operated for the common cause. There is really no time for anything else."

Lieut.-Col. F. Brooke Stephenson, C.C., the Canadian Scottish, also addressed the men on parade and welcomed the Irish Fusiliers. The co-operation of the two units would be of benefit to all, he stated.

Yesterday the men had their first practice in falling in to the beat of the drum, after watching N.C.O.s demonstrate it under the direction of Camp Sergeant Major Jack Cleator. Later the men were told off into squads for infantry drill, as the serious business of the day got well under way.

IS EFFECTING REVOLUTION

Prime Minister of Australia Describes Results of Munitions Making

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 28 (C.P.)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies in a broadcast today on the munition-making efforts of Australia said that since the Ministry of Munitions was created three months ago, it has authorized the expenditure of £100,000,000 ($350,000,000).

This vast outlay, Mr. Menzies said, is effecting an industrial and technological revolution which ordinarily would have been the task of the next generation. In explanation, he said that Australian craftsmen are mastering and often improving processes which they would not have attempted before the war. Australia is rapidly becoming a first-class industrial power.

The country is producing two types of airplane engines and next year would produce a larger type of a famous pattern and of immense power.

There has been much expert improvisation of Australian materials and equipment and many triumphs over technical difficulties. Australia presently employed 20,000 munition makers and by the middle of next year would employ directly or indirectly 150,000. The objective was to produce, just as soon as possible, every weapon of war needed as defence against a modern army, the Prime Minister stated.

Increase Is Noted In Telephones in Victoria Area

According to figures released by the B.C. Telephone Company yesterday, the number of telephones in Greater Victoria was higher by 311 on July 1 than at the beginning of the year.

On January 1 there were 18,768 telephones here, and to July 1 the number had increased to 19,079. The increase was spread fairly evenly over the city and surrounding municipalities, with Oak Bay leading.

Officials thought the reason for the increase to be due to the larger numbers of military people here, housing schemes and the sale of city properties at low prices.

The July figure is 1,334 greater than that on January 1, 1939, when there were 17,945 telephone subscribers.

From June 1 to July 1 of this year, alone the number of telephones increased by fifty-eight.

The increase is reported to be general all over the province.

Boys Rescued When Rowboat Is Overturned

When their rowboat, overloaded with driftwood, was swamped in Rose Bay yesterday afternoon, two youths were in difficulties until rescued by another boatman, city police reported. The lads were John McFadyen, aged eleven years, of 1084 Quimper Avenue, and Bob Warren, sixteen, a visitor from Los Angeles, staying at the above address.

The boys were ferrying the load of bark across the bay when their craft was swamped and they were thrown into the icy water. Harry L. Doidge, 171 Bushby Street, put out in a rowboat and brought the lads to shore. Constable Edwin Sturrock, who went to the scene in response to a call from Mrs. J. M. BATTLE FOR AIR SUPREMACY

In the German air raids over Great Britain there is indiscriminate and random bombing, and sometimes it seems, from reports, as if the racks of the bombers are emptied just to lighten the machines and enable them to get back to their bases as quickly as possible. From the beginning of the War the Germans have waged hostilities on civilian populations. They have done so against unarmed merchant shipping, both British and neutral. They slaughtered civilians indiscriminately from the air in Poland, Holland, Belgium, Norway and France, and they are doing the same in their aerial battle with Great Britain. Children in the Scilly Islands have been machine-gunned by airplanes. Children in neutral Eire have been killed by bombs. There is no limit to the savagery of German attacks. It is significant, however, that air attacks should now be responsible more for the destruction of private property than for serious damage inflicted on military objectives. All neutral observers in Great Britain, who have been afforded facilities for seeing the results of German air raids, subscribe to this fact.

Thus the enemy is turning more and more to a campaign of terrorism, since he has experienced the stubborn resistance being offered by the Royal Air Force and the land defenses. His timetable of conquest has received a rude shock. Germany throughout has relied on her air arm to clear a path for the invasion of the British Isles. She believed, in the first instance, that this arm, with the aid of submarines, would be able to wipe the British Navy off the seas. There has been complete failure in this particular, for that Navy is stronger now than it was at the outbreak of war. The German air force has, for the first time, met with defenses that have kept it from repeating the damage it has wreaked on other lands. It will continue its assaults on the British Isles, for its strength is still far from spent, but resistance will increase all the time, and, as it does, the morale of the German bombers cannot fail to be affected.

Mr. J. L. Garvin, writing in The Observer, says "the main menace to the world is German air terrorism and nothing else." It would be so if it were all-powerful and could pave the way for the landing of armies in Great Britain. It is farther removed from playing this role now than it was six weeks ago. Mr. Garvin writes that "Britain and America, by their combined production of fighting craft, have an overwhelming power to break and annihilate that terror. Far and wide they can turn the other edge of the air-weapon. Unless they do it, then, through long and dark generations to come, mankind will never again draw the happy breath of free and secure civilization in either hemisphere."

How the Battle of Britain is going is estimated in this way by The Yorkshire Post: "It would be dangerously misleading to suggest that the Nazi air force is not a most formidable weapon. We must beware against under-estimating either its striking power or Hitler's will to use that striking power with complete contempt for German as well as British lives. But we see heartening signs every day that our R.A.F. is capable of making the Nazis pay a staggering cost for any blow dealt against this island or its shipping. . . . If Hitler's air force gives him power to do us harm, nothing he has achieved so far suggests that he can strike against our stoutly-defended fortress anything approaching the knockout blow hinted at in his latest sinister peace offer. The day will come when weight of numbers, coupled with her already established superiority in men and material, will give Britain strength to end Hitler's reign of terror. There are hopeful reports that we are at last beginning to overtake the threatening numerical lead Hitler was allowed to gain."

THOSE CORVETTES

Stories of the launchings of vessels of the corvette type are appearing in the newspapers, some originating from "an eastern Canadian port" some from "a western Canadian port." Some half-dozen of such craft have been launched, with the information that they are for the Canadian Navy. A story in The Empire Review for August says these vessels are being built for the British Admiralty. That is a point about which there should be no misinformation. It should be made clear for which Government these corvettes are being constructed.

The stories of the launchings in this country give no information about the vessels. The Empire Review describes them as "modern craft especially designed as submarine chasers and for escort work." The name corvette is famous in the history of naval nomenclature. Many noted vessels have been of this type. Originally the corvette was a flush-decked wooden war vessel, generally equipped with only one tier of guns, resembling a frigate. In the United States such craft were called sloop-of-war. These ships will be manned by Canadian seamen of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Mr. Angus Macdonald, Minister of Naval Defence, said recently that in the next year 100 more ships would be added to the Canadian Navy. There is some confusion in the public mind as to the ownership of the corvettes now being launched at intervals. It is to these, among others, that Mr. Macdonald alludes. The Journal of Ottawa, says, "we are told, of course, with respect to the particular corvettes launched the other day, that they are the property of the British Admiralty, that descriptions of them should come from the Admiralty. Well, the Admiralty doesn't seem to mind telling all about them, apparently, except their armament." Then, referring to the censured reports of the launchings, The Journal says: "All the information offered was that the vessels 'were of the corvette type.' This told us nothing. Comment made was that if the ships 'amounted to anything,' it would have been worth while to tell us about them, as an encouragement to ourselves in this country—that it couldn't help the Germans, but on the contrary annoy them—and that a little bluster may be a good thing in a war."

DOING THEIR BIT

The St. Thomas Times-Journal believes that at a time when the country is being so heavily taxed some arrangement should be made for a just system of remuneration for members of the Dominion Parliament. There are many who believe that members should forego their seasonal indemnities altogether during such a crisis. Because Parliament adjourned recently instead of being prorogued the members were not entitled to draw their full seasonal indemnity. They are, however, undergoing no financial sacrifice, because, ever since Parliament adjourned, they have been drawing $20 a day, and will continue to do so until some time in December. Parliament was adjourned until November 5, but meantime the members will continue to draw their indemnity by installments. In other words, they are being paid although not discharging parliamentary duties, and will continue to be paid until each has received the full $4,000 seasonal indemnity. That this is happening does not seem to square with the idea of war effort.

It would be an insignificant, but none the less impressive, gesture if all Members of Parliament at Ottawa and Members of the Legislatures of the Provinces would forego their seasonal indemnities for the duration of the War, and assign the monies to the provision of airplanes. In many communities throughout the country funds are being raised for this purpose, for the need is great. From Ottawa and from the different provincial capitals comes the call for sacrifice. The politicians themselves might well set an example by contributing their seasonal indemnities to the war effort. This move would have a most desirable effect on public opinion; it would prove that example is better than precept, and the politicians themselves would have the self-satisfaction of knowing that in time of crisis they were not benefitting from the public exchequer. They would have the satisfaction, as well, of the knowledge that, as time goes on, squadron after squadron of fighting planes, or bombing machines, as the case might be, would be added to the strength needed to defeat Germany. Thus politicians could feel that they are "doing their bit."

Weeds may grow more luxuriantly in England for the time being, for the Southern Railway's weed-killing train has been converted into a fire-fighting unit for the duration of the War. The tanks that used to carry the weed-killing mixture now hold 18,000 gallons of water, to be sprayed on fires caused by incendiary bombs. It is estimated that a stream of water can be maintained for two and a half hours without refilling the tanks. The train is manned with six full-trained fire-fighters.

OUT THERE

Out there the salt spray whips
The blood from frozen faces and dumb lips.
Young eyes grow old with watching, hair turns white,
In the long vigils of the North Sea night.
And the white crest of every curling wave
Is the grim headstone of a sailor's grave.

For those who sweep the Seven Seas
Lord of the Deep, we pray;
If theirs be the sum of Sacrifice,
Grant us the Right to Pay.

Out there, grim fragments lie
In awful heaps beneath the leaden sky,
And noise unceasing stuns the reeling brain;
Colder than Death, the bullet's sharper pain
Unheeded passes, and with scarce a moan
Young lives go out into the Dark alone.

For those who suffer Death in Life,
Lord God of Hosts, we pray;
If theirs be the sum of Sacrifice,
Grant us the Right to Pay.

Out there, where e'er they be—
Wasting with fever by some Southern sea—
Braving the heights where mild and senses reel,
Death's icy fingers clutching at the wheel—
Findings at last, unsought, the Great Reward,
Then lay their manhood on Thine Altar, Lord.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

They call him the Willy Hun, but at times he is capable of great stupidity. The submarine oil slick, the smoking aero engine, the faked distress call, and numerous other devices used a quarter of a century ago have made their repeated appearance in this war. Meanwhile, the Royal Navy no longer puts much dependence on the oil slick, the Royal Air Force sets a double watch on the plane with the over-smoking engine, and the faked distress call is methodically sifted for what it is, a ruse. A few new devices have been added, but not many.

Take the faked distress call at sea for example. During 1916 and 1917 army signallers in Flanders almost nightly used to hear distress calls from the English Channel, or the Bay of Biscay, or the Irish Sea; emitted on highly damped waves such as would be used by a steamer in its emergency battery wireless set after the dynamo had shut down. A typical message would say that "Ship Seabone sinking in position at ——" and then give latitude and longitude for the supposed vessel in distress. A peculiarly worded message, letters were never used, and that after the first routine SOS, the heavy German flat on the telegraph key could always be detected. (A telegrapher has a touch as individual as that of a musician.)

In those days the faked distress calls were used as a means of luring British destroyers into a submarine trap, but signally failed for the reasons stated, and for several others which need not be mentioned here. Today, however, the faked distress call is a different purpose. Three times within the last three weeks a reputable wireless service has picked up distress calls for which there do not appear to have been any vessels in distress: twice in the Atlantic, and once off South Africa. There is no reason to doubt the bona fides of the report made by the wireless service. On the contrary, the calls were no doubt sent out, and duly heard. In no case, however, was the name or the call letters of the ship mentioned; and in every case the position, latitude and longitude, was stressed. In other words, someone was interested in position, and not in identity. It would accord well with German methods to use such a device to arrange a meet with submarine refuelling ships; putting latitude and longitude in figure code.

Then take the case of the vessel that has been warned that she will not be guaranteed safe passage through submarine-infested waters. There have been some four instances of that in the present war. In each case there has been a tremendous fuss created about the sailing of the vessel, her prospective danger, deep and dark warnings that she will never be allowed to dock—and then nothing. When the vessel docks, it is with a sense of relief that her complement of passengers is welcomed—they have escaped dire disaster at sea, and so on. But why all the fuss? Why the creation of a sense of relief that the vessel docks safely, never having been really threatened? One may imagine a number of reasons: the transfer of German agents to new soil being the simplest one. In this British Columbia under the plant, but tentative provision, has been made for several hundred, and that may be exceeded as time goes on.

The keenest interest in the plan is being shown by foster parents whose own families have grown up, and who have a wealth of affection and understanding to give to the little travelers from across the water. The children are arriving in batches of forty to seventy-five.

Less obvious is the old German device of sending two planes of a squadron of twenty down to machine gun children on the beach, while eighteen machines remain aloft to watch for airdromes from which defending fighters rise. Even there, however, the public watches the cold and deliberate acts of murder on the beach, while the Royal Air Force is attending to the eighteen machines which stayed in the clouds. When the real battle of Britain comes to be written, you will appreciate how much you owe to the Royal Air Force, meeting the present massed air reconnaissances in a steady, level-headed way. Britain, scornful of tricks, is placing her punches; and placing them where they will hurt. Meanwhile, examine all German toasts. It is usually buttered on the wrong side, and with a reason.

Important Matter

After strenuous efforts on a punning hot day, four soldiers dragged a field gun to a spot carefully designated by an officer in an Island encampment. While the officer crisply gave further instructions, one of the men complained, "Back it up a bit, fellows. One of the wheels is on my cigarette." Bill, the Broad Street barber, invited a friend home to taste some of his wife's delectable Lancashire cooking. Later in the evening they gathered in the parlor to recover from the effects of too many helpings. "Say, Bill," the friend commenced, "Can you lend me $5 until next week?" Willie remarked that he could not hear. The man then repeated his request, "What's that?" Willie queried, "I can hear him perfectly. What on earth is the matter with you?" Mrs. Bill wanted to know, "If you can hear well you lend him the $5?" Bill snickered. "Aubrey believes that many a girl as pretty as a picture is also a talkie. He also feels that a girl who speaks volumes always ends up on the shelf." According to a little "Apple Blossom" of the "Anchor," opportunity knocks for every man, but a girl gets a ring. "Little Jackie is of the opinion that a homely girl gets on a man's nerves, but a good looking one gets on his lap." We heard of a Hollywood star so dumb that he had to have a double for the four-syllable words in her part—G.B.

CHILDREN ARE WELCOME HERE

B.C. Homes Thrown Open To 150 Young People From Britain

Upwards of 150 British children, who will be welcome guests in British Columbia homes for the duration of the war, have now arrived in the Province, and have been distributed to families preparing for their coming. It was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

Philip Walker, deputy provincial secretary, who assisted this week in guiding a party of the children to Victoria, said the plan was working smoothly, and that the children appeared contented and happy in their new surroundings. Many others have gone to relatives already in this country.

In charge of organization of the scheme for Canada, Dr. G. F. Davidson is in the East, on loan to the Dominion in connection with the organization and inception of the scheme. It is not known here precisely how many children may come to British Columbia under the plan, but tentative provision has been made for several hundred, and that may be exceeded as time goes on.

The keenest interest in the plan is being shown by foster parents whose own families have grown up, and who have a wealth of affection and understanding to give to the little travelers from across the water. The children are arriving in batches of forty to seventy-five.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of August 28, 1890)

Beaver Rock to Go—Beaver Rock will be a land, or rather a water mark in Victoria Harbor for only a very short time longer. Three scows are being fitted up at the Government Wharf in the rear of the Customs House, with the necessary gear for hoisting, clearing and blasting. The work will be commenced next month. Shippers look forward to the removal of this hog back as a most desirable and necessary improvement.

Residence Property—John Turner, of the Janion Wharf Company, who is putting up the business block opposite the Dryad Hotel, has begun the erection of six one-story frame cottages on Rihet Street, James Bay. They consist of five rooms with bay window and bathroom. He recently sold three seven-room houses which he has just built on Cook Street, near Bellot Street.

Carpenters Organize—A branch of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners has been organized in Victoria with a very large membership to start out with, under very encouraging prospects. They will be associated with the Trades Assembly in the organized labor movement.

PACIFIC WHALES TOPIC OF TALK

Dr. Frances Oldham Addresses Kiwanians at Luncheon Meeting

"From present knowledge, it is extremely doubtful that Jonah could have suffered his little episode with reference to the interior of a whale," said Dr. Frances Oldham, of the University of Chicago, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Speaking on the subject of "Whales of the Pacific," Dr. Oldham described how she, a pharmacologist at the university, came to learn of the more intimate habits of the world's largest mammal when research was required on the pituitary gland. That of the whale offered new possibilities, with the result that the speaker spent a total of five seasons at whaling stations on the California coast and also on Queen Charlotte Islands to the north of Vancouver Island.

Dr. Oldham, a previous resident of Victoria, is at present visiting her father, Col. F. D. Oldham, at Cobble Hill. She attended school here at St. Margaret's School and Victoria College, before going to McGill University.

MANY FALLACIES

In telling of the habits of the world's largest mammal, the speaker said: "There are many fallacies current with regard to the whale. Contrary to popular belief, it lives to an average of but twenty-five years; over 90 per cent of its oil is used for edible purposes; the total value of a whale averages but $1,000, and the top speed is about seventeen knots, attained solely through the use of the tail."

Having a weight calculated at the rate of a ton per foot in length, whales attained a length of about 100 feet, weighing, therefore, as much as twenty-five elephants, the speaker said.

The club was told of plans for the garden party sponsored by the Soroptimist Club today at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mayhew. All members were urged to attend.

W. Bayless asked for volunteers from the club to assist in the distribution of posters bearing a replica of the Union Jack to the various schools in the lower part of Vancouver Island.

The meeting, under the chairmanship of the president, Darrell W. Spence, enjoyed a community song, Austin Curtis leading and Cecil Heaton at the piano.

GREATER DEMAND MADE ON JUBILEE

Figures for 1940 Show Need of Extension of Hospital Accommodation

Year by year greater demands for accommodation are placed upon the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and the first half of this year is no exception, according to Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of the hospital. During the first six months of 1940 there have been 300 more patient days a month than was the case during the first six months of last year.

This increase in itself indicates the urgent need that exists for the new wing that is now under construction, and illustrates why the directors feel deeply concerned over the question of completing financing of that project. As the war progresses, other demands will be placed upon the institution and the directors are anxious to be in a position to meet those demands.

A total of $25,000 is needed to complete financing of the new wing, and on Saturday of this week a tag day will be held in the hope that citizens will support the cause to the fullest extent.

In the meantime those wishing to make more substantial donations may do so by sending their cheques or leaving cash donations with Dr. Walker, care of the Jubilee Hospital; F. E. Winslow, care of the Royal Trust Company, or E. S. Henley, of Henley, Hepburn & Co.

Gala Realizes Handsome Sum For Red Cross

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, general convener of the grand garden gala held at Government House on July 31, members of her committee met Monday to hear the audited financial statement, which was read by the honorary treasurer, E. E. Henderson. He reported that the sum of $12,422.63 had been realized from the successful undertaking, this amount including Princess Chikmoff's cheque for $1,750 for the purchase of an ambulance.

A cheque for $12,422.63 was handed to the president of the Red Cross, Brigadier-General J. G. Austin, who was present and congratulated Mrs. Wilson cordially on the outstanding success of the gala. He also thanked her personally for her splendidly efficient work as organizer and convener.

Mrs. Wilson thanked the workers for their wholehearted and generous support. Their fine co-operation had made her work more of a pleasure than a task, she said.

Mr. Henderson was specially thanked for his work as treasurer. The secretary, Miss Macrae, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Mae Rice, Mrs. Beckett and Mrs. H. P. Crowe, were among the others specially thanked for their part in "the most successful Red Cross event ever held in Victoria."

"VIRGO"

If August 28 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m., from 5 to 7 p.m. and from 9 to 11 p.m.

Do not hold back your emotions on this date for by freeing yourself of them you may find yourself greatly relieved of a lot of inward seething. Ruminating on real or fancied wrongs may be listed among the mistakes that will have a disconcerting influence over the words and actions of many persons. Borrowing trouble will be a common practice at this time, and a very foolish one for you to indulge in. The way to solve most domestic and business problems is through substitution or replacement, provided too much time is not allowed to elapse before you find the suitable one. Explicit instructions may be necessary in the regulation of household affairs, for if you leave anything to the average individual's intuition or chance, it is likely to prove costly. Nervousness will probably be responsible for most of the breakage. High-strung people must be very careful in handling breakable objects. Married and engaged

"THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA"

That is what we are—"betwixt" and between about our prices. Some people say our prices are too high, some too low. We regard goods donated as a trust, and cannot sell too cheap. If our prices are too high, how is it that we have made over $1,200 clear of expense already in the month of August. Our pricing is the subject of a great deal of earnest thought by unpaid helpers, who devote a lot of time to the matter. Please co-operate by refusing unfair criticism and giving us fair criticism by personal call or letter. We have a customer waiting for a child's tricycle.

Party for Niece

Mrs. J. G. Jones entertained at the tea hour recently at her home on Dalhousie Street, complimenting her niece, Miss Faye Smith, who is to leave shortly to take up a teaching position at Lantzville. Miss Foster was presented with a hand-embroidered luncheon set, with a corsage bouquet of sweet heart roses and violets by Miss Samuelson on behalf of her friends. Miss Eleanor Brooks was the winner of the contests played. A sit-down supper was served, the table arranged in a "T" shape, being lighted with pale pink gladioli and centred with ivory tapers in silver holders. Every place was marked with a tiny hide. Those present included Mesdames Paul Green, Arthur Corry, John Prisk, Frank Leech, Frank Hall, Harold Pendray, Sam Sweetman, and Misses Edna Ford, Eleanor Brooks, Betty Corless, Wilma Jones, Florence Murkar, Mary Samuelson and Catherine Almond.

Pressing Call For Comforts Just Received

The London headquarters of the Incorporated Soldiers' and Sailors' Help Society, in a letter dated July 16 to Major F. V. Longstaff, reports as follows:

"The Admiralty are trying to collect half a million pullovers, seaboot stockings and gloves with fingers, before the winter. They have all the helmets, scarves and mittens they require for the present."

Seaboot stockings should be made without seams, so as to avoid giving the wearers sore heels.

The third large case is about to leave the Victoria comforts depot for The Missions to Seamen, London headquarters, with a total of 382 woolen articles.

Soldier Song Now Heard in United States

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 27.—American music makers and orchestra leaders, judging from the number of requests being received from the general public, are finding that the 1940 version of the British Empire's wartime "national anthem," "There'll Always Be an England," is rapidly gaining in popularity throughout the United States.

This is indicated by the numerous orders pouring into music distributing houses from virtually every state of the union. It was learned today from Gordon V. Thompson, of Toronto, who has recently acquired sole distribution rights for this patriotic war song on the North American continent.

Written and composed by two English song writers, Hughie Charles and Ross Parker, "There'll Always Be an England," attained widespread popularity throughout the British Empire almost overnight at the time of Hitler's threatened blitzkrieg on the Motherland.

Everywhere the English language is spoken this song is being played, whistled and sung. Recently a number of war guests from England, boys and girls in their teen ages, arrived in Toronto to live with relatives and friends for the duration of the war. As they trooped off to the train these youngsters lustily sang, "There'll Always Be an England."

The song, too, has proved exceedingly popular with British soldiers and sailors everywhere. When the British vessel "Actra" was torpedoed and sunk off the west coast of Ireland recently, survivors took to lifeboats and led by the ship's captain, sang "There'll Always Be an England" while the big vessel went down with colors flying.

Dedicated to the heroism of the British Navy in rescuing Allied prisoners of war from the Nazi freighter Altmark, some months ago, Hughie Charles and Ross Parker have written another patriotic war song, "The Navy's Here," which is also finding favor with American and Canadian music lovers.

"Aren't rosy cheeks a sign of good health?"
She: "I should say they are."
He: "Well, you're a lot healthier on one side than the other."

Dick Metz Heads Qualifying Field In Pro Golf Meet

Chicago Shotmaker Finishes With Rounds of 69-71 To Win Medal Honors in P.G.A. Tournament —Jug McSpaden Finishes Second— Match Play Will Commence Today

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Dick Metz of Chicago, one of the more popular of professional golfers, practically wasted two grand rounds of 69-71 here the last two days to capture medal honors in the qualifying round of the annual P.G.A. tournament.

For all his dead-eye shooting through the slanting rain and his inspired putting on a water-logged course, the former Texan received a medal for his pains and a trophy for his medal. When the real shooting begins tomorrow in the first two rounds of match play, he will be starting from scratch, just like the other sixty-three who qualified for the main event.

Metz's two-round total of 140, in fact, might have the distinction of being the last in P.G.A. play. Tom Walsh, president of the body, is thinking seriously of abandoning the preliminary skirmishes hereafter and having the boys start in match play from the first day.

Pursuing Metz to the wire through today's steady rain was Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the old Kansas boy who now plays out of Winchester, Mass. He shot rounds of 70-71-141. Henry Picard, the local professional who knows every tuft of Clover, took third place with 73-69-142.

Today's activity, already dreary enough because of the weather, was saddened further by a late announcement that Denny Shute had been taken to the local hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

Denny Shute out HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Denny Shute, P.G.A. champion in 1936 and 1937, was taken to hospital for an emergency operation for appendicitis today shortly after he had completed his two qualifying rounds for the current championship.

Shute had been out of competition for nearly a year because of serious trouble that necessitated an operation, and this was to have been his return to active play in the United States. He scored rounds of 75-76 to qualify handily for match play starting tomorrow.

GABBY HARTNETT TO REMAIN BOSS

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—P. K. Wrigley, owner of Chicago Cubs, announced today that Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett will be retained as manager of the team.

It was a non-surprise, as both Wrigley and Hartnett had done a good job this season. Hartnett, now serving his nineteenth season with the club, succeeded Charlie Grimm in 1938.

BRAMPTON SCORES WIN

MIMICO, Ont., Aug. 27 (AP)—Brampton Excelsiors stood off a furious last-period rally by Mimico Mountaineers tonight to triumph, 12-11, in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior tilt.

CANADIAN OUTFIT

The war will keep one former champion, Ross "Sandy" Somerville, of London, Ont., out of this year's tournament. Somerville is with the Canadian Active Service Force in Great Britain, his golf clubs put away for the duration.

Among today's qualifiers were Ray Billows, runner-up to Ward last year and to Goodman in 1937; Bob Sweeney, former British amateur ruler, Dick Chapman, winner of the 1936 British Open, and Bob Clark and Ed Puzos, winner and medalist respectively, in the national public links tourney, who received special invitations to compete.

The day's scoring honors were shared by Bob Dunkelberger, the little High Point, N.C., star; Jack Fields, of Tulsa, Okla., and Albert "Scotty" Campbell, of Seattle, former Walker Cup player and twice Canadian amateur champion. They turned in thirty-six-hole scores of 141.

BALL SQUADS WILL RESUME CITY SERIES

Pitzer & Nex and Athletics Play Tonight—Cann, Waddell, Pitch

LOYD Cann, speed-ball hurler in the Tillicum Athletics' baseball camp, will be out for an all-time local record in the Rithet Cup series this evening, when he steps on the mound to dish up his fast ball to Pitzer & Nex, 1939 city champions.

The young soldier twirler has two shut-outs to his credit in as many starts, and will be gunning for his third this evening. The game is scheduled for 8:45 o'clock.

In the four games already played the clubbers and gasmen have gained an even break, and the winner of tonight's crucial struggle will take over the leadership. All of the fixtures have been bitterly contested and productive of smart, fast baseball. Nine runs have been scored in the four battles, with Tillicum getting six, exactly double as many as Pitzer & Nex. Gasmen have punched out more base knocks, but have been unable to put them together in the right places.

Duff Waddell, southpaw flinger, who has turned in some excellent performances at the Caledonia Avenue ball lot this season, will go to the slab tonight for the gammen. The former Prairie hurler has a variety of offerings, and figures to give the clubbers' heavy hitters plenty of trouble.

MANAGER ROBINSON SPEAKS

"Scotty" Robinson, hustling young manager of the Tillicum Athletics, who has already done a grand job since taking over the club, figures his proteges will end the series in straight games. "We will win tonight and then repeat on Friday," the young pilot said in discussing the probable outcome of the series.

But an entirely different story comes from the club manager by Bert Nex, veteran player, who came out of retirement last season to pilot Pitzer & Nex to the city championship. Says Manager Bert: "We did it last year against great odds, and with better pitching and a slightly stronger club. I see no reason for the boys not coming through again. At least, we figure to retain the Rithet Cup, and one thing is certain, we will be in there fighting every inch of the way."

Scalzo Is Winner Over Jim Perrin

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Pete Scalzo, the National Boxing Association's featherweight champion, gained a clean-cut ten-round decision here over Jimmy Perrin, the Louisiana-recognized titleholder.

It was a non-surprise, as both fighters were in overweight. There were no knockdowns.

CRICKET LINE-UP

Spencer's cricket line-up for today's friendly match with the combined Five C's Garrison team, followed by F. Tyrrell, N. Tyrrell, R. Nixon, F. Tupman, G. Gardiner, M. Turner, P. Shrimpton, J. Oakman, L. Pasmore, C. Walton and J. Hesketh.

Close Decision at Plate

Joe Oringo, St. Louis Cardinals' second baseman, is out trying to score on Owen's single in the fifth frame of the fifth game of the New York Giants' catcher Harry Danning, Bill Terry's ace receiver, and one of the leading batmen in the National League, has the ball as Umpire Dunn calls the play. Some of the fans at the park thought the decision should have been the other way around and therefore booed lustily, but as the picture shows, the umpire is raising his right hand and emphatically says that Mr. Oringo is out, and apparently he means what he says.

Finishing second in each of the two heats, Remus (3) annexed the place position.

BOWLING EVENT WILL BE STAGED

Play in the annual Rose Bowl lawn bowling tournament will open on the greens of the Canadian Pacific Club, at the rear of the Crystal Garden, tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. The meet will be concluded on September 5.

Draw follows:

Bays Defeat Jokers and Gain Bye in City Boxla Play-Offs; Rugged Game

Second Half Offensive Enables Winners to Take 20-14 Decision From Cellar Occupants—Jokers Leading at the Interval, 6-4—Play-Offs to Open Here in September

HOW THEY STAND

James Bay 17 13 4 26

Last night's scores:
Seniors—James Bay 20, Jokers 14
Juniors—Owl Drug 18, Douglas Tire 14

Friday's games:
Seniors—James Bay vs. Jokers
Juniors—McLean's Bakery vs. Owl Drug

Uncovering a blistering second-half offensive with which the Jokers were unable to cope, Manager Ted Menzies' James Bay boxla aggregation last night came from behind to defeat Coach Gus Munro's black-clad stickmen, 20-14, in another rugged exhibition of the gut-stick pastime presented at the Victoria Sports Centre.

Trailing by two goals at the half-time interval with the score 6-4 against them, Bays ran in three rapid-fire tallies in the opening minutes of the third stanza and took a lead which they kept throughout the remainder of the hectic struggle.

The victory was the thirteenth in seventeen starts for the orange-sweated stickmen and clinched for them first berth in the league standings and the bye in the post-season play-offs, slated to open next month. Bays and Jokers met Friday evening, but even if the servicemen defeat the James Bay aggregation, they will not better their second-place standing.

MADE GRAND FIGHT

Jokers, lowly cellar occupants, whose scrappy, game exhibitions have gained for them the moral support of many boxla followers, made a grand fight in their final league fixture of the 1940 campaign for two quarters and well into the third they made the evening chores quite heavy for the defending champions, but fell away badly in the dying stages of the hectic battle.

Turning point in the game came when scrappy "Pud" Pridham, spark plug of the Jokers' attack, drew a "rest of the game" penalty in the third stanza, following a fistic display with blond-haired Norman Baker. James Bay came to the Jokers' offensive fell off immediately after, and when the end of the third stanza arrived the Bays had a four-goal margin, their biggest lead in the first three periods.

The Baker-Pridham fracas broke out immediately after the orange-sweated stickmen moved ahead, 7-6, and was the culmination of earlier heavy body checking and rugged play. The two players were battling for possession of the elusive ball near the boards, and things just did not suit, so they resorted to a short, exciting fistic display.

Ed "Cotton" Brynjolfsson and Stan Ross, the "men in white," stood back for a few seconds and let the boys go to it. Wild slugging ensued, with the unscheduled bout very even. Finally the arbiters intervened and chased the players for the remainder of the game. The fracas broke out again momentarily when the players were making their way to the dressing-rooms.

TIES THE SCORE

The first two quarters were rugged and fast, with little to choose between the two clubs. Bays pulled up at the end of the initial stanza leading 3-2, after the Jokers twice came from behind to knot the score. Scrappy "Pud" Pridham knotted the score at 3-3 in the early seconds of the second period and Ute gave Gus Munro's proteges the lead at 4-3. Elusive, little "Red" Mason came back with the equalizer and the Bays' final tally of the second stanza. Blond, young Andy Overchick rattled two smart shots past Goalie Art McKim, and the half-

Passeau Captures Seventeenth Game For Chicago Cubs

Wins Fifth Tussle in Thirteen Days by Turning Back New York Giants, 3-1—Cardinals Nose Out Boston Bees, 4-3—Yankees Continue Their March Towards First Position

By The Canadian Press

Workhouse Claude Passeau, who has been doing as much pitching as resting in the Cubs' drive towards a first division berth in the National League, won his fifth game in thirteen days yesterday with a seven-hit 3-1 victory over New York Giants. It was his seventeenth victory of the year against eleven defeats.

Martin Marion's first home run of his major-league career, in the fourth inning, turned out to be the run needed by St. Louis Cardinals to defeat Boston Bees 4-3.

New York Yankees continued their belated drive toward the top in the American League by turning back Chicago White Sox in the fifth inning, 5-4. The victory advanced the champions within five and a half games of the idle Cleveland Indians and two and a half games of the likewise idle Detroit Tigers.

Baseball's hero of the tenth-inning uprising after Joe DiMaggio, in the role of pinch-hitter, had struck out. Dahlgren dropped a single into short right to score "Red" Rolfe with the winning run. It was the only game played in the junior circuit yesterday.

BALL TUSSLE ENDS IN TIE

Longshoremen and Brunsdon's Veterans Play to 4-4 Deadlock

Pushing over the tying run in the seventh frame, Brunsdon's Veterans, Equimatt sponsored softball nine, last night came from behind to gain a 4-4 tie with Victoria Longshoremen in the Poodle Dog Cafe Cup final played at Royal Athletic Park.

Husky Dal Munro, playing manager who guides the destinies of the Veterans from the initial sack, poked out the base blow that scored Cliff Roach from the key-stone bat with the tying marker. It was a slinging drive to left center field, and the second successive base knock of the evening for Brunsdon's pilot.

Freight jurglers pushed speedy Harry Holmes around the paths in the first frame, and then the scoring ceased until the first of the sixth. In that session it was Brunsdon's Veterans who pulled the run across. With the sack loaded diminutive Jimmy Baker laced out a triple scoring three big tallies and giving his clubmates a 3-1 lead.

Longshoremen came back in their half of the sixth and forced out in front for the second time in the abbreviated contest. They poked out two telling base knocks and took advantage of a costly miscue to send a trio of runners scampering across home plate.

TIES UP GAME
With two men down in the first of the seventh Cliff Roach singled, stole second and came home on Manager Dal Munro's double to tie up the ball game at 4-4.

Longshoremen were unable to get to Al Bridger in their half of the inning, two of the three batters whiffing the cool evening breeze. The clubs came up with two smart double plays. Brunsdon's and longshoremen sharing the honors.

Bridger turned in another smart performance on the slab, holding the hard-hitting stevedores to five safeties and fanning eight. Byers was nicked for seven hits and struck out one.

Score by innings: R H E
Brunsdon's 100 003 1-4 7 3
Longshoremen 100 003 0-4 5 2

Confident That Hockey Circuit Will Carry On

SEATTLE, Aug. 27 (AP).—Directors of the Pacific Coast Hockey League held their first meeting of the season here tonight and expressed confidence the sport would be continued in the Northwest for the 1940-41 winter season.

They declined to disclose what, if any, official business was transacted. Sentiment after the meeting appeared to be against continuing as a three-team loop, but the directors said no definite lines had been established for a fourth team from the Northwest or California. They declined to discuss the possibilities.

Meeting with President Fred Taylor, of Vancouver, B.C., were Phil Lyette, Seattle; Bobby Rowe, Portland; and Guy Patrick, Vancouver.

SUPPORT HAS GREAT VALUE

France, "but they have not seen what has happened."

NEEDS ENCOURAGING
"If the French-Canadians take the position that France must fight with what she has left it will be an enormous service to the country, which needs to be encouraged," said the general. "I would like them to understand that and understand it well."

"If we really love France there is only one thing to wish for France—and that is victory. If there is no victory never will France be France. Hitler wants to destroy France. He is seeking to break it and dismember it. He has annexed territory that has never been anything but French and he is doing all in his power to prevent France from living economically."

"France will not live without victory and real friends of the nation should not wish for anything else but victory. Otherwise there will be nothing but slavery and misery."

TO INFORM CANADIANS
General de Gaulle, who has rallied around him a new French army of several thousand men who are training at an English military camp where Canadian soldiers are stationed, said he hoped a French committee would be formed in Montreal to inform Canadians of the true situation and of his real intentions. The general, Under-Secretary for War and National Defence in the Reynaud Cabinet before the fall of France, said there had been reports his aims were political. "But that is all bad propaganda and I'm simply a soldier fighting for France."

"We are reconstructing the French forces," he went on. "They are not big, but they exist, and, if all goes well, increasing numbers will be drawn from the French Empire, and later—we never know—perhaps we will be fighting on French territory again, to save it from the fate that has befallen it. Already some of our French airmen and soldiers are fighting side by side with our British allies in Egypt and elsewhere."

SAW TOO LATE
General de Gaulle attributed the downfall of France to failure to take into account the requirements of a new age from a military, political and social point of view, and failure to realize what was the new Germany. When finally the eyes of the Government were opened "it was too late."

The death sentence imposed upon the general by a French military court hangs lightly upon his shoulders. He described as ridiculous the court which imposed the sentence and added: "Briefly, it is the result of German pressure."

Naval Guns Bag
Share of Planes
LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP).—The Admiralty stated today that naval anti-aircraft guns had accounted for 122 German planes up to August 12 and that an additional sixty-four probably had been destroyed and forty-five damaged.

The Fleet Air Arm shot down an additional twenty-eight planes and damaged twenty-five others, many of which "can be considered lost," the Admiralty said.

The cure of care is prevent prayer.

CHALLEDON IS RACE WINNER

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—Challdon won the Whitney Stakes today, as everyone had expected, but he encountered difficulties no one had expected.

William L. Brann's Handicap King had to run the fastest one and one-quarter miles in the history of the event to beat out William Woodward's Isolator in a photo finish. His time was 2:03.1-5. Dusky Fox, Isolator's stablemate and the only other horse to run, finished ten lengths behind the battling pair.

Challdon, ridden by Jockey George Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., picked up $2,735 for his third victory in four starts this year.

With straight betting only Challdon paid $2.40 for $2.

GREYHOUND WINS TROTTING RACES

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP).—Greyhound, champion trotter, finished his Grand Circuit comeback campaign today with a two-out-of-three-heat victory in the $1,733 Trotting Club trot at the Syracuse fair grounds.

Greyhound, winner in straight heats in five previous starts, lost his first heat of the year in the opening of today's event, when Peter Astra caught him at the wire. In the next two heats, however, the great trotter first beat Peter Astra by a half length, and then by as much from Bravo, with Peter Astra sixth and last.
